

Secret
provence weekend

9–11 August

with Vladimir Mukhin

This trip is an opportunity to escape the maddening crowd and mundane bustle of the burning city

Friends, I await you in Provence!

An aerial photograph of a Tuscan landscape. The foreground shows a dirt road and a cluster of tall, thin cypress trees. In the middle ground, there is a large, two-story stone building with a tiled roof, surrounded by more cypress trees and a small courtyard. The background consists of rolling hills with patches of green and brown, under a clear sky.

Provence is one of my favourite places in Europe.
